Our wine list is unusual in that we list our rosés first, ahead of the whites and champagnes. This is because our rosés are a unifying centrepiece. They set the tone. They are extraordinary and unexpected. They are emblematic in that they are what you'll find most often on the tables of the Riviera through the decades. A symbol of friendship, freedom, golden days together and good times. They come, for the most part, from Provence, the land where our own journey began. And – most importantly – their versatility, especially some of the more unusual, fuller-bodied rosés, makes them an ideal accompaniment to our shared food.

It is a list of unusual simplicity too. Organised by region when we think it matters, and by style when that seems more helpful. Inspired by the Riviera but not limited to it. Visiting the great and iconic houses but taking equal pleasure in the energy and invention of smaller vineyards. These are quite simply the wines that our sommeliers judge most capable of bringing happiness to our tables. We hope they bring unusual happiness to yours.
